Product description

The Longhouse emulates the style of traditional farms from the Viking Age in Northern Europe. It offers a cozy shelter in any outdoor area and quickly becomes a popular gathering point. Ideal for storytelling, enjoying packed lunches, or as a refuge from the rain. The house is also available without sides for a more open expression (LE20118U), allowing everyone to participate in and observe activities in and around the house.

To make the house even more useful, benches can also be added, making it the ideal spot for teaching, creative projects, or social gatherings outdoors.
