Krister Play House combines visual charm with meaningful opportunities for learning through play for children aged 1 or more. Children can step inside to enjoy roleplay, social interaction or quiet moments of rest, building imagination, confidence and communication skills in a welcoming space. Compact yet engaging, Krister fits easily into outdoor playground environments of all sizes. Its open design supports visibility and accessibility, making it inviting for children of all abilities. Constructed from PEFC-certified Nordic pine and finished with durable materials, Krister is built for everyday use in parks, schoolyards and daycare playgrounds with fall height of 560 mm.
